MUCH ABUSED FRANKFORT.

A Favorite Correspondent Visits the State Capital to Witness an Imposing Ceremony

And While There Makes up His Mind That it has Been Subjected to Much Unmerited Malignity.

MORRIS MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Editor Favorite:
Having just returned from the unveiling of the monument of L. P. Blackburn at Frankfort on the 27th, and on the 29th the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of Dr. Rob. Morris, at Lagrange, I have somewhat to write about with your permission.

After the Masons in royal armor had received and dedicated the Blackburn monument, Mr. Beckner, of Winchester, and Gen. Bainbridge, of Washington, addressed the vast assembly, on the life and distinguished services of the illustrious dead brother, physician and statesman.

On the 29th, as stated, the grand heterogeneous assembly, by the fraternity, unveiled the monument of Rob. Morris, the most imposing and costly structure ever erected to the memory of a Mason. It was built by every lodge in the United States and was dedicated.

Dr. Morris, it seems, had attained to a higher degree in Masonry than any man now living and was poet laureate of the world in Masonry.

The attention and tender courtesies extended to his widow were touching in the extreme. As a high turnout for the honors conferred upon her husband, Mrs. Morris presented the DeMolay Knights a sword. Dr. Morris had received from the hands of a distinguished crowned head brother, the Grand Master of the masonry of Louisville, the head of an Elk with high horns, to be placed in their lodges as a memento of his love for Masonry and the fraternity throughout the world.

We are certain that the city of Lagrange must have had a more imposing and grander occasion than the unveiling of the tomb of her distinguished dead, Dr. Robert Morris.

As intimated above, in my previous article I visited the Capital of the State, Frankfort, the worst cursed city in the universe. Her penitentiary has been dubbed the "Black Hole of Calcutta;" the State-house, a travesty on common sense and good judgment; the banks, while it stands, a veritable nest of malaria, and that her hills absolutely prevented the circulation of pure air and an obstruction to the full-born rays of the sun for many homes during the day. All this I found to be an exaggeration, except in the statements made to wit: the removal of the Capital. With a certain assurance of a permanent location of the Capital at its present site, like the fabled bird, Frankfort would rise up from the dust and ashes, and by a little outside manipulation, would make a Capital building equal to the demands of the most fastidious and exacting. If I were a legislator, the smiles of as lovely women as ever graced term firms, who reside in the oversized cities, would prompt me to use every effort possible to perpetuate the Capital in its present locality forever. As a token of my sentiments in this direction I shall vote for the Constitution which insures its permanency. Kentucky's illustrious dead, in the center of the state, where we found a resting place here, is an argument against all others in opposition to the removal of the State-house.

I visited the cemetery in East Frankfort at an hour which seemed propitious. The hushed odd of the building voices gave me the hollowed spot a fascination that even the solemn tombstones could not destroy. The blue grass had become a carpet of green velvet. The lilacs and dogwood scented the wandering brooks, and the white and purple splendor pleased the eye. The violet and white clover peeped forth here and there and in their most modest way added to the beauty that glorified the resting place of those whom we loved while living, and who have passed from the waters of earthly life to the calm haven that awaits the weary soul. Here lay notably, Daniel Boone, Govs. Madison, Adair, Dick Johnson, J. J. Crittenden, Chas. Morehead, B. L. Madson, E. Blodgett, and the noble slain of many an engrossing battle field, and to whom has erected a monument worthy of their fame—a more beautiful and picturesque spot cannot be found anywhere than the above ground.

In conclusion, I wish to return thanks to many good chaperones and friend Howard, Staten, and Gladson for especial attention extended to us while in their midst. G. W. D.—Franklin Favorite, June 4.

The Wonderful Tower.

The highest structure in the world is the Eiffel Tower, at Paris, 1,000 feet high. But the great discovery of Dr. Franklin Miles is certain to never farceme it in promoting human happiness and health.

This wonderful nerve medicine builds up worn-out systems, cures fits, spasms, headache, nervous prostration, dizziness, sleeplessness, mouth ulcers, sexual debilities, etc. Mrs. John Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., gained 20 pounds a month while taking it. Finely illustrated treatise on "Nervous Disease" and sample bottle of the Restorative Nervine free at J. W. Gayle's drug store, who guarantees it.

Jett.

A good rain would be a welcome visit.

We were for Patsy, and Patsy got there.

Scarlet fever has broken out among the children of the neighborhood.

Dr. B. G. Thompson has sufficiently recovered to make an occasional professional visit.

Some of our young people took in the excursion to Cincinnati Saturday of last week.

Many Democrats seem disposed to oppose the adoption of the new Constitution for no other or better reason than the fact that the Republican Convention indorsed it.

It was framed by a convention composed chiefly of Democrats, and it seems to us not only simple but idiotic to say it is not a good thing because Republicans like it.

Our government is not like it. Our government is not as good as other things as well as other people. No

No one can possibly oppose the Constitution because the C.J. does. Well now

C.J. is a great newspaper and Democrats are and should be proud of it, yet the C.J. is by no means a good paper. It is not fit for an intelligent voter to inform himself and exercise a little judgment of his own before he decides to handicap this great State with the old time worn instrument of the past.

BULLDOFUS.

How to get a Handsome Husband.

"When'er some lucky Indian maiden Found a red ear in the husking, 'Muska!' cried they altogether: 'Muska! you shall have a sweetheart—You shall have a handsome husband.' The handsome man always admires the beautiful woman. Then simply make yourself beautiful. Remove blackheads, pimples, "fork" signs of acne, etc., from your features by the use of Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription, a tonic for the nervous, circulatory and procreative systems. It uses roses to the cheeks, and sparkle to the eyes. Take it, and you will like it. You had a good ear in good health, an omen of future happiness. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded.

John Young Brown's Family.

Col. Thos. M. Green, of Mayville, in a letter to the Commercial Gazette, says: "When I knew Mrs. John Young Brown thirty years ago, she was one of the most strikingly beautiful women I ever saw, of slight and willowy person, the step of a queen, an exquisite complexion, eyes of a color as un-

Closing Exercises of Academy of Music.

The closing exercises of Prof. Wayland Graham's music class took place on Thursday evening and last evening at the Baptist Church. On both occasions good audiences were in attendance and the music was greatly enjoyed by all. Each one of the scholars acquitted themselves well, and the two entertainments, like everything else which comes under Prof. Graham's management, were perfect successes. There is no more hardworking, painstaking instructor in the city and all of his pupils showed the careful training they had received.

Wilson-Williamson.

Mr. Oman L. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Matilda E. Williamson, of this county, were married at the residence of the bride's great uncle, Mr. J. H. Williamson, near this city, on Thursday evening, by Rev. George Darsie.

After an elegant supper the young couple left on the 9:30 p. m. L. & N. train for a short visit to the parents of the groom at Aberdeen, Ohio, after which they will go to their future home in Washington, where he is an employee of the Government printing office.

Died.

FRANKFORT, JUNE 13, 1891.

KILLED BY THE CONDUCTOR.

Kahr Taylor Shot on An Excursion Train.

A large crowd left this city for Louisville on the excursion train Sunday morning, and as usually the case, some of the excursionists were pretty well loaded with whisky. Kahr Taylor, the young colored man who stabbed James Kincaid so severely last summer, was among the number, and when the train had reached St. Matthews Station he attempted to kick down the door of the water closet in the car, and an eye-witness gives the following account of what followed: Conductor William Wilder, who was in charge of the train, went to Taylor and told him if he did not desist he would put him off the train. Taylor cursed the conductor and said no d—n white s—n or a b—d could put him off the train, when Wilder started to take hold of him, the negro struck the conductor and threw his hand behind him as if to draw a weapon, and was shot by Wilder before he could get his hand up.

The town marshal of Eminence was on the train and Wilder was surrendered to him immediately and was turned over to the police as soon as the train reached Louisville, but was afterwards released on bond.

The news of Taylor's death created quite an excitement among the colored people here and an immense crowd was at the depot when the train came in that night, bringing the remains.

As the shooting occurred in Jefferson county Wilder had an examining trial in Louisville Monday morning and was acquitted.

McGillaway-Griffin.

Mr. Robert E. McGillaway, of Mt. Sterling, and Miss Agnes Griffin, of this city, were married at the Church of the Good Shepherd at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, in the presence of quite a company of friends and invited guests. Rev. Father Gores officiating.

The bridal party approached the altar in the following order: Ushers—Messrs. Chas. R. Stephens, this city, and John McNew, of Mt. Sterling; Thos. G. Newman and Richard Lynch, this city; then the bride leaning upon the arm of her maid of honor, Miss Margery McGillaway, of Mt. Sterling, sister of the groom, who were followed by the groom, leaning upon the arm of Mr. John Coleman, of Mt. Sterling, who officiated as best man. Arriving at the altar the party passed within the chancel and arranged themselves in an appropriate manner before the officiating minister, the groom having relieved the maid of honor of her charge at the steps of the altar. After the solemn ceremony had been pronounced the party left the Church and took the 10:30 L. & N. train for Mt. Sterling, the future home of the bride and groom.

At night an elegant reception was given at the residence of the groom's parents, and was largely attended. Those present from this city were: Misses Maggie Griffin, Marie Curns, Nonie Feehan, Johanna Noonan, Nellie Murphy; Messrs. Chas. R. Stephens, Tom. G. Newman and Richard Lynch.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents.

Lead Mine.

A lead mine has been opened upon the farm of Mr. Watts, just over the Anderson county line, near Blakemore's distillery, and a shaft twenty-five feet deep has been sunk. The ore is very rich and has some traces of silver in it. The mine is in charge of Prof. Brooks, a mining expert, who is working twelve hands, and parties interested have gone on to New York to purchase a smelting apparatus. Ore estimated to be worth about two thousand dollars has been taken out at an expense of less than two hundred. The vein lies north and south and in its northern extension runs into the farms of Messrs. M. D. Averill, D. D. Parker and B. Farmer, in this country. The present works are located east of Alton with one mile and a half of the Louisville Southern Railroad.

One day last week the workmen engaged in sinking the shaft exhumed the remains of a mastodon, a part of the vertebrae and several molars were found. Other bones may yet be taken out as the work progresses.

Another Postponement.

The Home Construction Company met in this city again on Tuesday, but adjourned for two weeks without doing any business of importance.

Elected Trustees.

At the special election for school trustees held in Bellefonte on Saturday, Messrs. N. L. McDaniels and S. W. Howell were chosen to fill all the unexpired term.

Infested with Thieves.

Georgetown seems to be infested with sneak thieves. The Times says more than twenty residences in that city have been entered by thieves in the last six months.

The Manly Art.

Mr. John Ward, the featherweight champion of Cincinnati, is giving boxing lessons at the Athletic Club rooms, from 8 to 10 o'clock each evening. He has organized quite a class of young men who are desirous of learning the manly art of self-defense.

Prison Day.

As Tuesday was "prison day" with the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a number of ladies came to this city from Louisville and Lexington, and the Penitentiary visited, where flowers were distributed to the convicts confined therein. Each bunch of flowers had a passage of scripture attached, and every prisoner received a small bouquet.

Fine Looking Men.

The grand jury at the late term of the United States Court was composed of as fine-looking set of men as were ever brought together in any court in this State. It was the unanimous verdict of the loungers in the court-room every time the jury marched in to make their report to the Judge that a more handsome body of men had not been seen here in a long time.

Circuit Court.

The June term of the Franklin Circuit Court convenes on Monday. The civil docket is light but the criminal docket unusually full. It is probable that the cases of the Commonwealth against the bondsmen of Jas. W. Tate, late State Treasurer, will be tried at this term, and if they are taken up the full term will be consumed in the trial of the same and the cases of the criminals now confined in jail.

The K. M. I. Corps of Cadets.

In a hastily written notice of the beautiful military drill by the battalion of cadets from the Kentucky Military Institute during their visit to this city on the occasion of the unveiling of the Blackburn monument, we failed to give a correct list of the officers present, which has since been furnished us. The correct roster of officers was: Col. Albert Moore, Commandant and Instructor of Tactics, commanding; . . . John P. Stewart; Second Lieut. Paul E. Bardsell; Color Sergt. C. C. Kavanaugh; First Sergt. C. S. Losey; Second Sergt. Morrison Breckinridge; Third Sergt. John M. Brown.

Examination of Teachers.

The Public Schools of the city closed yesterday and next week there will be a general examination of the teachers, in all the grades, now employed in the schools, together with all applicants for positions in the same. The examination of teachers in the white school, and applicants for the positions, will begin at the Public School building on Monday, the 15th, and be continued from day to day until completed. The examination of teachers in the colored school, and applicants for positions will begin on Thursday, the 18th, at the white school building, and will also be continued from day to day until completed. This will constitute due notice to all persons intending to apply for a position in either of the schools to put in their applications at once, as no further notice will be given. The above notice is made at the request of the School Board, and all those interested will govern themselves according-

State Teachers' Association.

The next meeting of the State Teachers' Association will be held at Henderson, June 24, 25, 26. From present indications it will be the largest meeting in years. Hon. John Young Brown will deliver the address of welcome, and Hon. Ed Porter Thompson, our next State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will make an address on "The Press as an Educational Factor." Hon. Wm. T. Harris, U. S. Commissioner of Education, and the foremost living philosopher of America, will deliver an address on "Psychology for Teachers," and this alone will be worth a visit to Henderson. The program is an unusually full one and the sessions will be crowded with interesting exercises. All railroads of the State will sell tickets at one fare for the round trip, and the people of Henderson will look after the comfort of all who attend. The President, Prof. C. H. Dietrich, of Hopkinsville, has spared no pains to make perfect all arrangements, and a good meeting is in prospect. Every teacher should attend. Programs can be obtained by addressing the Secretary, R. H. Carothers, Louisville, Ky.

OF APRIL 15, 1865.

We are under obligations to Mr. J. F. Lewis, of Louisville, for a copy of the reprint of the New York Herald of the above date. The first page is in deep mourning and in startling headlines the assassination of President Lincoln is announced, and all the latest war news is given, including the last proclamation of Jeff Davis, which was issued from Danville, Virginia, on April 5th of that year, and the surrender of Gen. Lee. The paper contains little or no local news and but very few advertisements. It is a six column four page paper, printed in type, and is quite an interesting relic of the past.

Committed Suicide.

A young man by the name of William Spaulding, aged 21 years, committed suicide on Monday, near Frankfort, Shelby county, by hanging himself to the limb of a tree upon the farm of Mr. William Jennings. The cause of the young man taking his own life was unknown as he seemed to be in his usual cheerful humor an hour before his body was found hanging to the tree.

Tried for Lunacy.

An inquest of lunacy was held before Judge Ben G. Williams and a jury, upon the person of Elijah Powell, of Switzer, on Tuesday. He had become deranged upon the subject of religion and during the trial attempted to preach a sermon to the court. He was adjudged insane and taken to Lexington Wednesday.

Our To-be.

Mr. Walter Franklin, Jr., made his maiden effort as a lawyer before the United States Court on Thursday. He appeared as the attorney for a "moonshiner" and succeeded in clearing his client. His speech before the jury was highly complimented by those who heard it.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JUNE 13, 1891.

Will Marry in Louisville.

Mr. R. Lee Hulett, of the ROUNDABOUT force, and Miss Jamie Thacker, of Louisville, will be married at the home of the bride in that city on Monday.

Strange Companions.

There are two grown cats upon the farm of Mr. M. D. Averill, of this county, which have been raised with his chickens, run about all day with the hens, feed with them and at night all go to roost together in the henhouse.

Lecture.

Rev. E. S. Alderman will deliver a lecture on a popular subject at Providence Church, this county, for the benefit of the Ladies Aid and Mission Society on Wednesday evening, June 17th, at eight o'clock. Admission 25 cents.

Mr. Van Pelt, Editor of the Courier, Mo., Meteor, went to a drug store at Hillsdale, and asked the physician in attendance to give him a dose of something for cholera morbus and looseness of the bowels. He says: "I felt so much better the next morning that I concluded to call on the physician and get him to fix me a supply of the medicine." The doctor was surprised, when he handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. He said he prescribed it regularly in his practice and found it the best he could get or prepare. I can testify to its efficiency in my case at all events." For sale by J. W. GAYLE. 39-4c.

That Lexington Meeting.

The meeting of the opponents of the new Constitution, called by Cols. Henry Watterson and J. Stoddard Johnston, took place at Lexington on Wednesday. The Lexington papers guy it unmercifully and intimate that it was a fizzle, but the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times say it was a great success. "You pays your money and you takes your choice."

Can't Do Without It.

Dr. Jacob S. Coleman, formerly of this county, writes from Vienna, Austria, to have the ROUNDABOUT sent to him in that city, care of the American Consulate General. Dr. Coleman is in Europe for the purpose of taking a special course of lectures in medicine and will remain there some time. He says that Rev. Father Lambert Young, formerly of this city, was a traveling companion on the voyage over, and made himself very pleasant agreeable to all on board the ship. He left Father Young in Holland looking well and in good spirits.

Cholera infantum has lost its terrors since the introduction of Dr. Hall's specific, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. When that remedy is used and the treatment as directed with each bottle is followed, a cure is certain. Mr. A. W. Walter, a prominent merchant at Walbridge, Ill., says: "It cured my baby boy of cholera infantum seven or eight remedies had failed. The child was so low that he seemed almost beyond the aid of human hands or reach of any medicine," 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. GAYLE. 39-4c.

Frankfort Male Academy.

A most successful session of the above school closed on Friday, without any commencement exercises whatever. There were forty-two scholars upon the roll for the term just closed, and the prospects for the session, which commences in September, are very flattering, a large number of scholars having already been engaged. Prof. Case has just issued his annual catalogue, which is very complete, and they will be distributed in a few days. The school is one our city may well be proud of and deserves liberal patronage from our citizens.

An Opportunity for a Just Act.

The success of the Frankfort City School no one questions. Where other schools of like character in other cities have lost in strength and tone, ours has increased, and has grown steadily from year to year until its hundreds of pupils attest, in the long daily procession that enters its gates, its high tide of prosperity. To this result Prof. Brower largely contributed. Not only did he give daily instruction to the school, but many nights and days of plan and thought to ways and means of promoting its success by legislative and administrative work. The night school for ambitious young men, who had not time to spare from daily labor to acquire an education, was his suggestion. He was not only a mere officer to discharge duty prescribed, and to perform a routine, but he was an ever ready friend and a working friend to promote success in every desirable way for popular education in Frankfort. Death came to him in the midst of his work, more than twenty years of service as principal was closed forever. Of course all regretted his death, and a progressive mind, he kindled antagonism and found opposition. But this is over now. The veil is drawn, and the contests, whatever they may have been, are stilled. The suggestion has been made, and we trust that the school will carry it into effect, to grant to the widow of Prof. Brower the balance of the salary that would have been due him for the unexpired portion of the session had he lived. The amount is small. It will be a just act. The large sum of Prof. Brower's salary, the school in various ways, all contributing through many years to its success, that did not come under the mere routine of school duty, will render it in some sense recompense and proper recognition. This work advanced the cause of the City School and promoted popular education in Frankfort to an extent outside, those directly interested, knew.

Every pupil—and there are thousands—and every citizen who has seen the growth of the school with local pride will, we know, cordially unite in asking that the just and worthy act be done, and as cordially thank the Trustees for doing it.

Council Proceedings.

TUESDAY, June 9, 1891. Present—President Staten, Councilmen Church, Howell, Gaines, Shaw, Parsons and Richardson. Absent—Councilman Payne and Tobin.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Petition of Jilson & Todd, asking a transfer of their license to R. B. Jilson, Jr. Granted.

Petition of citizens of the South Side, asking that some measure be taken to abate the poor nuisance at the corner of Campbell and Murray streets. Referred to street committee.

Kentucky Press Association.

PADUCAH, KY., June, 1891.

Editor Roundabouts. The Kentucky Press Association came, saw Paducah, fell in love with the "pride of the purchase," and both sides capitulated. The citizens and the press here are thoroughly en rapport, and the three days have been thoroughly pleasurable, despite the weather's caloric. The Paducahans would have the visitors believe that the warmth comes from their hearts instead of from nature's elements, and I have often heard it said that the reception was fully as warm and far more genial than the beaming rays of Old Sol.

The association commenced at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, with President Staten in chair. In all about one hundred and fifty ladies and gentlemen were present. The business of the association was transacted rapidly, giving the members opportunity to see the city and enjoy the hospitalities of the citizens. Few papers were read, but some very interesting discussions were had on topics of special interest to the newspaper fraternity. H. A. Sowers, of the Elizabethtown News, was elected President for the ensuing year and Chas M. Meacham, of the Hopkinsville Journal, Vice President. L. B. Hall, of the Paducah Daily Ben Harrison were re-elected Secretary and Treasurer respectively. Arthur Ford, of the Courier-Journal, was selected for orator of the next Convention and Miss Daisy Fitzhugh, of Lexington, was asked to write the address. The next Convention will be held at Lexington.

Paducah made no ostentatious display in the entertainment of her visitors. The usual flaunting of flags and bunting, on occasions of the sort, were entirely absent and the visitors were given to understand by the town that they were at home. The people were thoroughly attentive to their guests and left nothing undone to make their stay pleasant.

Thursday afternoon carriages were provided for visitors to ride over the magnificent gravelled roads which deserve all the fame that they have attained for Paducah, and to take in the sights of the city. In the evening a banquet was given, at which three hundred were seated. Good humor prevailed and the speeches were being the only requisite for fare.

Friday evening a ball was given at the Palace Hotel to celebrate the crowning success of the occasion. To-day (Saturday) the most of the members availed themselves of the invitation of the citizens of Cairo to take a ride down the Ohio river on the steamer Gulf Fowler and visit the capital of Egyptian Illinois. There the visitors will again accorded the same royal treatment they had received at the hands of the Paducah people. A splendid dinner was given at the Halfway house and a special train was chartered to take the delegation over the steel bridge that spans the Ohio at that point, which, including the inclines, is four miles long and the second longest bridge in the world. Should Mark Tapley visit Cairo now, as Charles Dickens did his forty years ago, his surprise pleasure would be cheering under the most distressing circumstances would be turned to sadness, for he would see this once dreary and uninhabited spot blossoming as the rose with industry and thrift, filled with people who were once paupers, and the whole city acting like heavy odds. The writer says this in genuineness of feeling and begs leave to retract and withdraw whatever ribald jest he may have in the years gone by made at the expense of Cairo, while scribbling for the papers in a neighboring city. His desire is to say that the people of Cairo are not wob-footed. C. B. L.

Taking Leave of Prof. Rhoads.

At the conclusion of the commencement exercises of Hartford College, on Thursday, June 4th, the following resolutions were adopted by the pupils and presented to Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Vice-President of the College, who was recently elected superintendent of the Public Schools of this city:

WHEREAS, Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Vice-President of Hartford College and instructor therein, is to sever his connection with the said institution to take the Superintendency of Frankfort, Kentucky, Public Schools, and,

WHEREAS, We, with both faculty and patrons, recognize his scholarly attainments, competency to instruct and sterling integrity, to church society and business, which characterized him; and we, who have profited in his actions while among us, his pupils, made him an indispensable factor in society, both as a fearless antagonist to things gross and base and a fervent promulgator of which works for the weal of those he served and among whom he moved, even though it required self-denial; therefore be it

Resolved, That we feel that in his separation from us as an instructor and benefactor, we have sustained a loss irreparable.

Resolved, That although he leaves us, he has left us by his genial disposition towards us, his pupils, and by his general personal magnetism, forged a fetter that will continually link us in spirit.

Resolved, That we recommend him to those who grieve our loss, as one who is recognized in his pupils his friends; one whose personal interest is secondary to that of those whom he instructs; who is charitable to a fault; conservative in non-essentials, while holding tenaciously to essential right.

Resolved, That we congratulate both patrons and pupils of Frankfort's schools on their good fortune in having obtained such a competent and worthy instructor, and Frankfort society is securing one who will be in high circles a knownor of the rarest type.

Resolved, That we present a copy of these resolutions to Prof. McHenry Rhoads, the Hartford Republican, Hartford Herald and Frankfort Capital.

Done by order of the pupils of Hartford College, assembled June 4, 1891.

Committee.

In presenting the resolutions, Mr. E. P. Crowe, one of the students, said: "Prof. Rhoads—This is but a feeble effort on the part of the committee to express our appreciation of you and your work among us. We feel our inadequacy to the task of telling your virtues and your worth to us. Had we the vocal expression of a Stentor, coupled with the wisdom of Minerva, we could better effectually formulate the verbal vehicles to convey our sentiments, which would be the highest encomiums to your name. Had we Apollo's lute we would call it into play and attempt, by dulcet symphonies, to sound deserved adulations to you. Prospective depravation enhances the value of present possessions, but 'tis

"Strange, we never prize the music
Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown;
Strange, that we should slight the violets."

"Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange, that summer skies and sun-

"Never seen one-half so fair,
As when winter's snowy pinions
Shake their white down in the air."

"And the same is true of associations. We know your value, sir, just as we become conscious of your loss to us. We believe the sentiment of every one who has received what may be your service and instruction, as we were invaluable. For two years I have enjoyed, with others, an association with you which, in itself, was an inspiration; but in the school-room have you, by a stylus of precept—not a bare precept, but one accompanied by example—made moral impressions upon our minds that Time's effacing finger can never erase, and the mental altitude was co-extensive with the physical."

"At your hands we have not been considered as inferiors. In you we have found an elder brother as well as an instructor. In him (Dr. Alexander) we have a foster-father."

"This is a time of community and tension, as well as joy and laughter. The sadness accompanying the parting from each other—some of us perhaps for life, for in a day or two some of us will leave a school battles for the sterner conflicts of life's school—is doubly increased by the thought that when assembled again after vacation, there will be a vacant chair in the faculty that, from the standpoint of personal friendship on the part of us pupils, can never be filled. A voice resonant with sweet words, as though encouraging to us, will be silent. I feel, my acquaintances, that we are aghast toward Frankfort for such a robbery."

Nervous Prostration

Is a disease rapidly on the increase in America, where everything is going at high pressure night and day. Many young people are continually breaking down from over-work. Everybody needs a reliable nerve tonic, something pure and pleasant. Such a remedy is found in Dr. Hale's Household Tea, a purely vegetable medicine, the great New York City, it restores power and vigor at nothing else can. Has cured St. Vitus Dance of years standing. Acts directly upon the nerve centres, impeding health and strength. Try the great new remedy; 50¢ per package at South Side drug store.

WE CAN AND DO

Guaranteed Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases, especially curative, syphilitic poisonings, Ulcers, Eruptions and Pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution.

Mr. Frasier, of Versailles, was in the city last week.

Quite a number of strangers were in the city this week.

Industrial Legion Lodge will give an entertainment soon.

Mr. Richard Taylor, of Cincinnati, was in the city this week.

Miss Fannie Miller, of the Normal School, left for home Monday.

The St. John A. M. E. Park is the latest resort for pleasure seekers.

Mr. Robertson left for home after having completed his Normal School course.

Mr. Bailey, of Stamping Ground, made quite a hit with his song at the Normal School Commencement last week.

Rev Credit and Dr. Underwood delivered short addresses at the closing of the night school Wednesday night.

Misses Mamie and Clara Coleman returned from Nashville, Tenn., this week, where Miss Mamie has completed her studies.

The public is invited to the Industrial Legion Lodge's entertainment Monday, the 25th. Remember, this is the young Odd Fellows, so come out and help them.

Our people will be glad to learn that the Colored Methodist Protestant Church will now make his home among us. Having been appointed to a position at the Normal School.

Mr. Henry Combs, who lives on High street, tells the following chicken story which he says is strictly true: A couple of young ones which one of his men hatched commenced fighting when only thirty-six hours old, and kept it up until separated, and commence it again whenever allowed to approach each other.

The tenth annual exercises of the colored public school took place at the Open Hall on Thursday evening, before a large audience present bore the testimony to the interest taken in the school by our people. The programme was nicely gotten up and very well rendered. Many compliment were paid those participating in the exercises. Prof. W. H. Mayo and Miss Abbie McFarland deserve much credit for their earnest work with the higher grades during the past year. The young ladies who graduated were Misses Virginia Siddle, Ethelreda, Lula Coleman, Sidonia Dupree, Sadie Kirby, Emma Harris, Lottie Ferguson, Maria Warren, Nellie Williams, Lizzie Turner, Jessie Robinson, and Lizzie Combs.

They are all very young and deserve much credit for their success so far.

CHANGES AT THE COLORED NORMAL

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the State Colored Normal School, held in Louisville on Saturday, the following changes were made in the faculty.

Prof. C. C. Monroe, First Assistant in the Normal Department, was transferred to the Principalship of the Agricultural and Horticultural Department, at an increased salary of $800 per annum.

Prof. W. A. Credit, pastor of the First Independent Colored Baptist Church, was elected to fill the position of First Assistant in the Normal Department, at a salary of $800 per annum.

Moses Davis, of Georgetown, a graduate of the Government School at Hampton, Virginia, was elected as Principal of the Mechanical Department, at a salary of $750 per annum.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

Nothing is more remarkable than the fact that a medicine which is powerful enough to cure the most horrible form of blood poisoning can be given with impunity to a little child that is ailing; and yet this is the record of Swift's Specific (S. S. Swift, of New York) in the treatment of children.

During dinner appropriate sentiments sprang seemingly spontaneous from the lips of all present.

After all had most excellently refreshed themselves they retired to their rooms for organ music.

The hour was called to order by J. E. Wood, of Barren county, who was elected President of the Alumni; Theo. Frazer, of Midway, Vice-President; Miss W. A. Scott, of Frankfort, was elected Secretary, and Miss Mamie Bailey, assistant.

The election of officers short addresses were made by Prof. J. H. Jackson and Davis and by J. E. Wood, C. C. Wakefield, Theo. Frazer, Misses Jennie Sutter and Fannie S. Miller. The sadness of parting could not prevent the sweet faces of those of Carlisle, requested that we sing: "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." At the close of the hymn Prof. J. H. Jackson requested that we unite in repeating the Lord's Prayer. With almost every eye streaming with parting tears, each member took the parting leave. The Alumni adjourned to meet in 1898.

Make a Note of It.

Read it over and over again, spell it out and live it, until it is indelibly fixed in your mind, that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is an infallible cure for chronic catarrh of the head, with all its distressing complications, including tasteless, dull, affected breath, ringing noises in the head, defective hearing, nose and throat ailments, are not only relieved, but positively and permanently cured. This is no fancy of the imagination, but a hard, solid fact proven over, and again, again, again, and again, under a guarantee of $500, by its manufacturers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

At the first indication of disorder, the deranged or enfeebled condition of the stomach, liver, or bowels, should be promptly rectified by Ayer's Cathartic Pills. These pills do not gripe, are perfectly safe to take, and remove all tendency to liver and bowel complaints.
